Sustainable Connections: Erasmus+ Eco Seminar

16.06.2025 -18.06.2025 - WARSAW, POLAND

Sector: Vocational Education

Mode: Face to Face

Themes & Goals: Sustainable Connections is a transnational Erasmus+ seminar aimed at enhancing the quality of ecological projects implemented within the Erasmus+ program, particularly under KA2 actions. The event is targeted at VET institutions that wish to develop innovative projects focused on sustainable development, aligned with current ecological needs. The seminar aims to increase the innovation of these projects, improve their quality, and ensure that the ecological themes remain relevant and in line with the challenges faced by today's world. Participants will have the opportunity to establish valuable international connections, exchange experiences, and gain insights into best practices for implementing ecological projects, enabling them to introduce new, effective solutions into their daily operations.

Recommended for: The seminar is designed for professionals involved in Vocational Education and Training (VET) who are interested in integrating sustainability and ecological awareness into their projects. Participants may include representatives of VET institutions, educators, project coordinators, and stakeholders from organizations engaged in Erasmus+ initiatives. The event welcomes individuals eager to establish international partnerships, exchange best practices, and develop innovative, eco-friendly approaches within the VET sector. A strong interest in sustainability, green skills, and environmental responsibility is highly encouraged.

Improving Response Rate in Erasmus+ Research in an Appealing Way

24.09.2025-26.09.2025 – LEIDEN, NETHERLANDS

Sector: School Education (SE), Vocational Education (VET), Adult Education (AE), Higher Education (HE)

Mode: Face to Face

Themes & Goals: Problem and purpose -As we speak, we all notice an increasing interview fatigue resulting in low response rates, also in research in Erasmus+. This may endanger not only accountability but also impact research on the program Erasmus+. As such, we would like to find new ways to address this issue. To attract relevant participants, the conference will be organized around relevant actual Erasmus+ content, amongst which for example the four horizontal priorities. These concepts are, as well as the concept of 'European Values' hard to grasp in a methodological way while keeping the flexibility of these concepts high and keeping rigid, inflexible, or bureaucratic operationalisations of these concepts low. To conclude, we need valid, science based innovative ways to measure motion, progress and impact in an appealing way.

Recommended for: The target-group for the conference will consist of researchers of NA's, scientific staff of universities and public (data gathering) research organisations (ICF, universities, Eurydice, scientific representatives, Unesco, OECD, PISA etc), national and international stakeholders and other relevant stakeholders (Ministries, policy makers, research departments).

Participation in democratic life in early childhood education

08.10.2025 – 10.10.2025 – ESTONIA, TALLINN

Sector: School Education

Mode: Face to Face

Themes & Goals: We invite you to a seminar whose main objective is to increase the understanding and awareness of participation in democratic life in early childhood (a horizontal priority of the European Commission and the Erasmus+ programme 2021-2027) and the use of the basic principles related to this priority in pre-school education; as well as to provide practitioners and professionals with practical ideas to promote democracy in early childhood. The international environment also provides an excellent opportunity for networking and for identifying new potential partners for future cooperation and projects. The aim of this workshop is to attract and involve mainly Erasmus+ beneficiaries (both Key Action 1 - Learning Mobility and Key Action 2 - Collaboration projects) in the field of pre-school education.

Expected results: Increased Awareness of Democratic Principles in Early Childhood Education, Practical Ideas and Tools for Promoting Democracy, Networking Opportunities, Enhanced Collaboration and Future Partnerships, Practical Group Work & Workshops

Recommended for: leaders of pre-school institutions; teachers, specialists and project coordinators working in pre-school institutions
